This Old Bag: Pink Goes Green

On Wednesday, August 6, 2008, many of San Francisco's most philanthropic citizens gathered at the Spanish Suite at Clift for a sneak preview of celebrity and designer purses to be auctioned off at Breast Cancer Emergency Fund's fourth annual This Old Bag: The Power of the Purse. Guests enjoyed specialty cupcakes provided by That Takes the Cake, drank vodka by Pearl Vodka, and sipped champagne donated by J Vineyards, while admiring a lavish assortment of designer handbags and autographed purses. Among them were celebrity bags from Sharon Osbourne, Kathy Najimy, Renee Fleming, Sharon Stone, Sharon McNight, Tiffani Thiessen, and the Hon. Bella Farrow, as well as designer handbags from Chanel, Goldenbleu, Judith Leiber, Marni, Samsonite Black Label Couture, Furla, Foley & Corinna, Sanrio, and Bryna Nicole.

BCEF is proud to announce that Kaiser Permanente has returned as Presenting Sponsor of This Old Bag. And this year's Host Committee chairs, the Hon. Bella Farrow and Hilary Newsom Callan, have assembled a dedicated group of prominent San Franciscans to serve on the Host Committee, including Beatrice Amblard, Wilkes Bashford, Chris Bently & Amber Marie Bently, Harry Denton, Hon. Kamala Harris, Elaine LaMastra, Carolyn Lee, Hon. Fiona Ma, Bahya Oumlil-Murad and Beth Townsend.

This year's This Old Bag: The Power of the Purse will take place at the W San Francisco on Friday evening, October 17, beginning at 6 p.m. To date, over 100 bags have been donated for this year's event including bags from Bo's Art Studio, Glory Chen, Oberon Designs, Stella Page, Sally Spicer, Slainte Bags, and Talulah New York, and retailers including Bettina, kati koos, United Colors of Benetton and Mom's the Word.

We are also excited to announce this year's Pink Goes Green initiative. Look for our Pink Goes Green table boasting beautiful purses created from various recycled materials by eco-conscious designers, with contributions from fashion-forward designers including Be Sweet, The News, chemical wedding handbags, Banyan Paper, Hillside Bags, Personally Yours, Rock Musick, earthbags, Ecologic Designs, Greenheart, and ez-duz-it by elliot. Even our event planning has gone eco-friendly, which includes switching from water bottles to pitchers, replacing cut florals with potted plants, using recycled napkins, and composting leftovers. With the help of W San Francisco, we are committed to producing an amazing fundraising event while reducing our ecological footprint.

If you have a new handbag, or a previously owned handbag that is in excellent condition that you'd like to donate, please contact Joanie Juster at 415.558.6999 x4 or visit www.ThisOldBag.org

Tickets to This Old Bag are limited to 300, so you are encouraged to buy your tickets in advance at www.ThisOldBag.org.

Zephyr Real Estate Returns As Exclusive Corporate Sponsor

Make plans now to Dine Around on Wednesday, November 19, 2008, when more than 40 restaurants will donate 25% of that day's food and beverage sales to AEF and BCEF.

We are excited that Zephyr Real Estate is returning as the exclusive corporate sponsor for this seventh annual neighborhood fundraising event. You can join many of Zephyr's agents and thousands of your neighbors by making reservations at participating restaurants.

If you're up for a fundraising challenge, we encourage you to adopt a restaurant and become a Restaurant Captain and commit to hosting a dinner party of eight or more of your friends. You can also volunteer as a Restaurant Greeter; pair up with your best friend, choose a restaurant, and enjoy an adventurous evening. To volunteer go to www.dinearoundsf.org, and click on Volunteer Now.

Last year's Dine Around was a record-breaking year. With the support of Zephyr Realty, the Sisters of Perpetual Indulgence, Merchants of Upper Market and Castro, Castro Lions Club and Open Table, last year's Dine Around raised an incredible $38,000 for AEF and BCEF clients. That means 65 clients received emergency assistance when they were too sick to work.

A Force of Spare Change: Steven Sams

AEF has been fortunate over the years to work with dedicated and generous supporters. It is an honor and a privilege to have these special people as part of the AEF family. Any conversation about community fundraising for HIV/AIDS causes in San Francisco is incomplete without mentioning Steven Sams. Over a 27-year work career, Steven brought thousands of colleagues into the cause and raised hundreds of thousands of dollars for the community.

On the occasion of Steven's retirement from AT&T, we want to honor him and acknowledge the extraordinary impact he has had on AEF and other AIDS organizations. Steven has organized his company's AIDS Walk team every year since the very first Walk, often rallying a team of more than 1,000 colleagues and using his own personal challenge grant to spur his co-workers to new heights of generosity.

In 1987, he turned his focus to AEF's Pennies Project, directing his fundraising army towards workplace giving. Through an elaborate command structure of office captains and competing teams, Steven marshaled hundreds of people to place AEF penny jars on desktops throughout the company. In total, local AT&T employees have raised more than $90,000 in pennies and spare change, all under Steven's fearless leadership.

Now that he is retired, Steven has turned over his army of Penny volunteers to Betsy Kraft, and he is beginning to enjoy his free time. But don't think that means he'll be cutting back on his volunteering and fundraising activities.

"I am busy uploading my 19,000 e-mail contacts to my home computer," says Steven. "You know, I can be so much more productive when I don't have to work!" Congratulations on your retirement, Steven, and thank you for all you have done and will continue to do for our community!

Expansion Update

BCEF Serves First San Mateo Client

By late summer, BCEF will enter a new phase of service to our community. Thanks to the generous support of Susan G. Komen for the Cure and Safeway Foundation, BCEF is partnering with several impressive agencies to expand emergency financial assistance for breast cancer patients into San Mateo County.

"It's a much different service need than we've seen in San Francisco" said Cynthia Hester, AEF/BCEF Board President, "We are excited to partner with providers like Breast Cancer Connections (BCC) to help us identify the greatest need. But we were surprised by what services are most frequently requested."

BCEF's first San Mateo based client was a working mom. "Tammy" and her husband were a dual-income household until Tammy was diagnosed with terminal cancer. Hoping to spend some time this summer with her kids while she could still participate in their active lifestyle, Tammy resigned from her job. Her husband took not one but two extra shifts at a shipping warehouse to make up the loss of income.

When BCEF was contacted by BCC, the request was sobering: food. Tammy and her husband were eating one meal a day rather than deny their children healthy diets. The loss of nutrition was adversely impacting Tammy's health. BCC was working with the family to secure long-term food assistance, but a holiday weekend was approaching and the need was immediate. BCEF contacted Safeway Corporate directly and purchased food gift cards that Safeway made available immediately at the nearest San Mateo store location. BCC staff picked up the cards and delivered them to Tammy's home.

"It's going to be a tough time for Tammy and her family," said Susannah Dunlap, BCEF Director, "but thanks to BCC's intervention and corporate partners like Safeway, they know they're not alone."

BCEF is honored to begin services in San Mateo and grateful to the expertise of our community partners who already do great work for the breast cancer community.

Joe Garcia, Client Services Associate

Who's That Fresh Face?

After six years as AEF/BCEF's controller and business manager, Jeffrey Johnson recently relocated to Seattle to be closer to family. Jeffrey left giant shoes behind that needed filling, and after a long search, we are delighted to introduce our newest staff member, Jose (Joe) Garcia!

Joe is a native of the Philippines, where he completed his university studies at Far Eastern University in Manila and qualified as a Certified Public Accountant. After a lengthy work stint there as an internal and external auditor, he emigrated to the United States in 1996 and settled in the Bay Area. He worked for several years in accounting and administrative positions for non-profit and housing related agencies like Bethany Center Senior Housing, Northern California Land Trust and Bethel Housing Development.

"Joe's first day at AEF was the day before the County Fair, our biggest event of the year," said Mike Smith. "He survived the chaos of that day, so I am sure he will fit right in here!"

As Controller and Office Manager, Joe will handle all the finances of AEF and BCEF, review all client files for compliance and accuracy before payments are made, and handle the many administrative tasks that keep AEF and BCEF operating smoothly. While Joe may find the day-to-day tasks of his job to be similar to his previous employment, he is excited about the many perks of working in an LGBT office environment.

"Within the first month, I was riding down Market Street on a float in the Parade!" said Joe. "It was something I never imagined doing. I am certainly a long way from Manila – and enjoying very minute of working here!"

Donor Profile

Project Give

In April, AEF received a $1600 grant from Eastside College Preparatory School's Project Give program. This three-year program was made possible by a grant from the John and Marcia Goldman Foundation. This innovative program introduces students to the art and philosophy of philanthropy. The seventh and eighth grade students researched and selected Bay Area non-profits which could most effectively use small grants to make a difference in their community. Through a process of consensus building, teamwork, debate and compromise, the students gave away almost $11,000 to nine organizations including AEF. We are proud to have been selected by these young philanthropists.

Perspective

Mike Smith, Executive Director

Transitions at BCEF

After two and half years as Program Director of BCEF Susannah Dunlap has announced her departure. She has been presented with a career opportunity that she cannot turn down, and sadly decided that it is time to move on. Her absence from the office will be a huge loss for BCEF and for all of us who have loved working with her. So I want to use my column inches here to let you (and her) know how much she means to us and our clients.

At her job interview in December 2005, we were amazed that someone so young seemed to have a complete working knowledge of street life in the Tenderloin. During her work there over several years, she developed great professional relationships with many of our closest peer agencies doing anti-poverty work in San Francisco. She brought all those partnerships to BCEF, and also quickly built new relationships with SF General Hospital and many of the service providers throughout the City.

Under her leadership, BCEF doubled its number of clients served, then doubled again and doubled again. She was committed to seeing that every single low-income woman in San Francisco battling breast cancer knew about BCEF's services and received those services in a culturally appropriate manner. When she reached that goal, she helped craft our recent expansion of services into San Mateo county.

Susannah is equally at home at Mama's BCEF dinner, hosting bar events in Bernal Heights, talking handbags with This Old Bag donors in Pacific Heights, or speaking at national breast cancer conferences in front of thousands. Susannah was the consummate advocate for her program and her clients: helping everyone she came in contact with to understand the plight of low income women battling breast cancer.

She leaves a very large pair of shoes for her successor to fill. We have started the search and will, no doubt, have an announcement soon. In the meantime, Susannah isn't getting away too easily; she'll continue to be one of the driving forces behind This Old Bag in October. Also, please help me welcome AEF/BCEF's newest member of our Board of Directors: Susannah Dunlap!
